

New Year's Greetings

Thank you for your patronage and support this past year.
As the New Year begins, we wish you continued success and prosperity.

With an eye toward becoming a company to last 100 years

The late Eiichi Narishige
(1919-2011)

Dear Valued Customer:

Despite the passing of Mr. Eiichi Narishige, the founder of Narishige Group, his philosophy lives on in all our hearts.

Further sharpening our corporate philosophy “Be a machine shop of the world,” we at Narishige Group are aspiring to become a company to last 100 years and keep doing the job that makes our customers happy.

Your continued support and patronage will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Mitsuko Yoneyama, CEO
on behalf of all the staff at Narishige Group

Giving shape to your ideas

When you have your own idea of instrument and would like to get it materialized, please feel free to contact us. We will make the best of our long experience and achievements and make every effort to materialize it at the best of our ability. Also it is possible for us to make slight modifications to your Narishige products in use to make them better fit your application, such modifications as to a longer electrical cable or a holder for a larger pipette/electrode are available.

Narishige Scientific Instrument Laboratory launched from the idea of “being a craftsman for research institutes in the world” and has been manufacturing a lot of instruments as a good partner of researchers. We will continue to maintain this policy.

NARISHIGE WEB NEWS is updated monthly on the 15th day of each month.

NARISHIGE WEB NEWS will continue to provide such information as on useful functions and tips and characteristics of Narishige products. If you find any requests and comments, please feel free to feedback.
